Without cover. Inverted are manuscript memoranda identifying some of the people mentioned in the book. According to these notes, written in 1855, Rudolph Brunner, John Durr and G. C. Verplanck were the authors of this work. In a letter by J. Verplanck to M. Van Buren, dated Dec. 28, 1819 (preserved in the Library of Congress, Manuscript division) it is stated that John Durr wrote the first poem called "The state triumvirate," and G. C. Verplanck, the Epistles of Finlar Puff, the Prolegomena, etc. The state Oakley, attorney general of the state of N. Y. in 1819) was first published separately under title "Dick Swift; a political tale." (347)

- The very beggars petition against popery. Wherein they lamentably complain to King Henry the Eighth of the clergy ... Presented to King Henry the Eighth, in the twenty-ninth year of his reign, anno Dom. 1538, eight years before his death; and now printed verbatim, from a very old copy, only mending the autograph, for the ease of the reader ... (Worth perusing by both papist and Protestant, for the one to see how his forefathers and he have been, and are, gulled; and the other to see how he is like to be eternally abused, if he either through fear of death, or otherwise, embrace popery.)

historiae medicinae ... volumen tertium)
The figures, most of which are reproductions from the original blocks preserved in the library of the University of Munich, are now generally conceded to have been drawn by Jan Stephan van Calster. The text (reprinted from the Fabricae, 1555, 1548 and the Eptonius, 1549) explains the symbols used in the wood blocks, and therefore forms an index of the illustrations and their symbols.

Since the author is mentioned by Antonio (Bibl. hisp. nov.) as worthy to be published, but no printed edition of it is known. A German translation from the Latin version appeared with title: Wunderbarliche und seltsame Reisen Des Jungen und Edlen Herrn Petri de Victoria Anno Hispanien in das Königreich Peru. Von Jense selbst beschrieben, vund von den Patrioten der Societate Jesu dem Orden in Europa geschickt. An Jetzo aus dem Lateinischen Exemplar in die Teutsche Sprach versetzt. Gedruckt in Ingolstadt, bey Orazio Hübner. Anno 1628. (Title transcribed from the copy in the K. Hof- und staatsbibliothek, Munich) Himal's translation is presumably based upon this German version (cf. his preface and p. 1).

Victoria university, Toronto.

1836, incorporated by royal charter as Upper Canada academy, located at Cobourg.
 1841, charter extended and name changed to Victoria college (called variously in its publications Victoria college, Victoria university, and University of Victoria college).
 1884, Albert college, Belleville, incorporated with Victoria college, and corporate name changed to Victoria university.
 1900, federated with the University of Toronto.
 1902, removed from Cobourg to Toronto; faculties of law and medicine discontinued.
 In theology, Victoria university remains entirely independent, and confers degrees under its corporate name of "Victoria university."

Victoria university, Toronto. (Card 2)

As "Victoria college," the institution forms one of the arts colleges of the University of Toronto, and confers no degrees, that right being exercised by the University of Toronto.

Publications which were issued by Victoria university (under its various names) from 1836-1890, and publications of the independent faculties of Victoria university dating from 1890 (comprising at present only theology) are to be entered in the Library of Congress catalog under:
